

MYP
PERSONAL
PROJECT

EXERCISE 2

What do you see that you wish was not like that?

I wish people could be more conscious about the world we are living in, I wish they stop thinking about the money they are making so they could start thinking about the damage we are making to our home: earth. I don't like the idea that in a few decades all the wonders and beauty that we have left may be completely destroyed because we were more focused in themselves, in their benefits than taking care of the only place we have left to live.

What do you see that you think is unfair or unjust?

I think it is unfair the way governors and politicians are so corrupted and are capable of stealing money from a place like [redacted] that needs all the possible resources to reach a development. I think it is soul-less to steal money when there is so much to do with it, when there are kids needing education, when there are people needing health aid, when there are people starving.

November 10th

These following questions will help me define what I wish to achieve through the personal project and therefore my goal.

• What do I want to achieve through my personal project?

I will like to make a project in which I could help my city or my community. I want to help it, and improve it; I want to improve something that hasn't been yet improved: helping at the same time I am innovating. I will like to make something that could have certain impact, for instance a positive impact in the environment and the people.

• What do I want other to understand through my work?

I wish to give others the capacity to open their minds and understand that beyond their bubbles, we are living in world that has serious problems and we are the only ones capable of repairing them. I am approaching local problems to show people of my community that they are no far away from the problematic and that, for example, [redacted] is a city going through global warming as well.

• What impact do I want my project to have?

With the project, I am hoping to make a call on those who haven't yet realized the situation of our surrounding. I want to inform people, I want to help others and also make my community help others. I wish to create a change in both the city and its population, or at least my school and the students.

• How can a specific context enrich my project?

Two contexts could help and enrich my project. Once my goal is defined I will choose just one of the contexts, the first one is "Scientific and technical innovation" or "Globalization and sustainability".

ATL SKILL AREA

● Research      ● Self-Management      ● Social      ● Communication      ● Thinking

Explain why this reflects the ATL skill area you identified?

Thinking: I showed this skill because I identified problems and develop aims, goals and objectives which will help me define my product and topic of the PP.

Actions Arising → Set the FINAL goal for the personal project and define the FINAL topic.

Questions to Follow Up On → Which topic can cause the impact I wish to cause?

Global Context Reflection → Both contexts that were choose today could help my project in a future regardless of the topic because I want to lead that way.
